Southwest USA and Las Vegas

This book covers the same areas as previous editions, but with lots of updates, plus half a dozen completely new hiking regions are included. Lots of new history added too. One is a hike, or drive if the 4WD road it's too bad, to an area where in 1943, a US Army Air Force plane went down—which happens to be in a very scenic place. Also included in the history part are a couple of shoot-outs: one being the killing of Shoot-'Em-Bill Hatfield, of Hatfield & McCoy's fame, along with new history of the San Rafael Ranches, the old mail trail running between Green River and Hanksville, plus more. It also has the story of the 2 young shepherders who shot Sheriff Burns in 1894 in the mountains east of Castle Valley, but escaped to McCarty Canyon where they had a shootout with other marshals. Those marshals were guided by Sid & Rod Swasey. Those 2 boys escaped and lived their lives elsewhere—but no one knows where they went, or under what new names they may have used. If their kinfolk know, they aren't talking! Also in this edition is an updated history of the Swasey family and their adventures in the San Rafael region. All that research is the reason this book is a little late coming out. Also, new to this edition are lots more hikes to rock art sites.

4WD Trails: Central Utah

An account of the author's existence, observations and reflections, as a seasonal park ranger in southeast Utah

Utah's National Parks

During the 1980s and 1990s, a club called Pass Patrol traveled the Rocky Mountain Region. They used 4-Wheel Drive Trails and backcountry roads in search of scenic and historic locations. Members of the club were interested in visiting remote country that few people ever see. A series of guide books was published by Larry E Heck titled the Adventures of Pass Patrol. That series of books has faded into history. Welcome to Pass Patrol Recollections Volume Two. This book, 4WD Trails & Outlaw Hideouts of Utah, gives new life to the adventures experienced by that club during the 1980s and 1990s. By recovering the stories and most of the images from dusty archives, Larry E Heck has revived what was thought to be lost. As with the original stories, directions and GPS positions help guide the way for those who wish to find out what remains.

A mix of fiction and essays by the author described as “the Thoreau of the American West” (Larry McMurtry, The Washington Post). Edward Abbey himself compiled this volume representing some of his greatest work—including selections from such novels as The Monkey Wrench Gang, The Brave Cowboy, and Black Sun, as well as a number of expressive and acerbic essays. Renowned for inspiring modern environmentalists—though his interests ranged as widely as the landscapes he loved—Abbey offers an entertaining introduction to his writing, including excerpts from the autobiographical Desert Solitaire, in addition to his own sketches illustrating the text throughout.
