Dark psychology studies the parts of ourselves that none of us want to recognize. Within this field, our innermost demons are delved into, and a light is shone on the places that we would rather not see but need to see. Dark psychology accepts and embraces the darker side of the human experience. In this way it is doing the same as any area of anthropocentric study does, the only difference lying in dark psychology's specialty of this dark reality within the human animal. Dark psychology is not meant to be a pageant of villains, however. Specialists within this field do their work in order to better understand why and how malevolent people work toward their ends, not out of some attempt to gain fame for themselves and or to idolize the more monstrous among us. Mind Control 101 - How to Influence the Thoughts and Actions of Others Without Them Knowing Or Caring

Why would someone write a book on Mind Control? Because as much as we try to elevate ourselves above being human animals we are, in fact, animals. We are subject to the wants and desires of any being with a genome and vertebrae. To rise above that is an admirable and a task we should take on as a worthy spiritual endeavor. But to deny that we are, truly, animals is to lie to ourselves. We must deal with people who may not be so enlightened advanced as we are. They may desire what we have and be secretly filled with envy and contempt. The worst event is to have these suspicions fulfilled and then be pulled down into the politics of man. Do we deny that it's happening and hope others will be touched by our honesty and good will enough to change? Or do we drop our highest spiritual ideals and play their game? I would like to suggest a radically different strategy. Take the game of manipulation and Mind Control and make it a part of your spirituality.

Have you always wanted to be the one that got to influence everyone around you but figured that you would never have that chance? If so, then keep reading Being able to control other people is not hard at all despite what we may like to assume. It is incredibly easy to take control of the human mind thanks to the way that it works. The vast majority of the ways that people work involves the use of generalizing, making predictions, and following habits. Because of this, if you can begin to change those perceptions and habits, you can very quickly be capable of controlling the individual as well. The unconscious mind is always listening to what is going on around you, and it does this completely unprotected. The unconscious mind is not under the guidance or protection of your ability to think rationally, and because of that, when you tap into it, you can then begin to control the way that people respond and behave. To control someone else is as simple as tapping into one very easy to follow principle--your thoughts create feelings, your feelings create behaviors, and your behaviors influence everything else. It becomes this perfect loop in which your own behaviors can be regulated and understood. When you are able to break into one of them and change one of them, you see real changes in everything that comes after it, and because of that, you can then begin to hijack the people's mind. Manipulation is to mold, and you will be able to mold people
